A Woman's Question, The fount of life hath flowing springs,
Are they to me forbid?
Shall truth's sweet light, O Bountcous Be from thy children hid?

Were not all paths that lead to good Made to thy daughters free When ancient fetters were dissolved in gospel liberty?

Perchance thy subtle wish, O man, Hath Scripture truth misread, To my own heart I'll turn to list What God to me hath said.

Unto the pattern shown within
I'll first of all be true,
And oh! believe me, only this
Can I be true to you.

FERE I but his own wife, to guard and to guide him, 'Tis little of sorrow should fall on my dear; I'd chant my low love yerses, stealing beside him, So faint and so tender his heart would but hear; I'd null the wild blossoms from valley and highland, And there at his feet I would lay them all down; I'd sing him the songs of our poor stricken island, Till his heart was on fire with a love like my own.

There's a rose by his dwelling-I'd tend the lone treasure, That he might have flowers when the summer would come; There's a harp in his hall—I would wake its sweet measure,

For he must have music to brighten his home. Were I but his own wife, to guide and to guard him, 'Tis little of sorrow should fall on my dear; For every kind glance my whole life would award him, In sickness I'd soothe and in sadness I'd cheer.

My heart is a fount welling upward forever! When I think of my true love by night or by day, That heart keeps its faith like a fast-flowing river Which gushes forever and sings on its I have thoughts full of peace for his soul to repose in, meeting of the Counci was held last night, and matters of vital interest were discussed and acted upon. After the bills were read and approved, a representative of the Union Trunk and Bag Company appeared be fore the meeting and asked that the company be allowed to erect a new factory on the corner of Seventh Street, between Bainbridge and Perry Streets. The perm! was granted.

Mr. E. Shields appeared before the Council and asked that he be allowed to Mr. E. Shleids appeared before the Council and asked that he be allowed to complete a building which he had started on Bainbridge Street, between Ninth and Tenth Streets. The building is located in the line of a projected alley and in the prohibited fire district. Mr. Shleids contended that he had received a permit from City Engineer Lipscomb, and had started work on the building on the understanding that he was within the law as expressed in the city ordinances. Captain Lipscomb arose and denied that he had granted such a permit, saying that it was beyond his province and that he had not exceeded his responsibilities. It was moved that he be allowed to finish the building, subject to the provision that the city chould open the alley whenever it should so desire and that the building should be removed at his own expense. At this juncture City Attorney Page arose and said that the Council had no right to violate any more than a private individual, an ordinance passed by its prohibiting frame buildings to be erected in this district. The petition was lost. The applicant then asked that he be allowed to erect a brick building on the property. His petition was referred to the Street Committee, as the proposed building is said to be in the line of a projected/alley.

Saloon Ordinance.

The new famous ordinance for the closing of saloons at twelve o'clock midnight, proposed by Mr C. C. Cox, was brought before the attention of the Council, Mr. Pettit moved that it be laid on the table. The motion was put to the house and defeated. Mr. A. J. Daffron them moved the adoption of the ordinance. Before the vote was called several members discussed the proposed ordinance at length. Mr. Pettit, in a short speech, said that the council had no right to impose such a respection on the saloons. The saloons of Mchester, he said, are conducted in an orderly matter, and if they should not be so conducted there is ample police protection to prevent any rowdylsm. He argued that if clubs should take advantage of the ordinance and locate in Manchester, the Council would not be able to touch them, and that they would promote the very evils they are now trying to restrict and that under club ownership they would be very much worse.

Mr. John W. Moore said that, per-

In a note to the Council he expressed his thanks for the uniform kindness and courtesy that had heen ever extended to him, and regretted that circumstances forced him to this action. The resignation was accepted, and Mr. C. L. Pettit nominated Mr. D. L. Toney to fill the vacancy. No other nominations were put, and Mr. Toney was elected unanimously, Mr. Wakefield was elected unanimously, Mr. Wakefield was appointed to fill Mr. Daffron's place in the clear water committee, and as the annexation committee will meet before the next sitting of the Council, Mr. A. A. Adkins was appointed to fill Mr. Daf-frons' place in that committee.

New Factory to Come. The business boom which Manchester is now undergoing is still progressing, and to add to the general progress another factory is to be located here. The new factory is to be the building of the Union Trunk and Bag Company, which is to move its great plant in the control of th Union Trunk and Bag Company, which is to move its present plant, just outside of the corporate limits, to the corner of Seventh Street, between Porter and Bainbridge Streets. The firm has bought three-fourths of the square, and purposes to erect a substantial brick building, four stories in height. The dimensions will be 110 by 140 feet. The fire will employ between seventy-five and a hundred hands. The new plant is to be erected to accommodate the enlarged business of the firm, and will be started as soon as the plans and specifications are ready. are ready.

Academy last night offered a distinct treat.

Dorcas is an opera without a chorus, but the chorus is never missed, and would have been decidedly out of place. If the money that goes in to choruse is what causes the poor voices in the principals of the majority of comic operas then fewer choruses, or, at least, more Dorcases.

Miss Hall, like Shakespeare's beloved "hath a way," would hardly be called, as she is heralded by one of the cast, a bit of Dresden china, but she smiles and after smiling she sings and she can do both.

Miss Bonton as the real Dorcas can sing.

after smilling she sings and she can do both.

Miss Bonton as the real Dorcas can sin but her strong card is her looks, for she is wonderfully pretty, while Josephine Knapp as Lady Lambourne, and Jennie Weathersby as Griselda, a sort of comic opera, Mrs. Maleprop, were both satisfactory, Misis Knapp's voice being sweet and flexible.

Mr. John E. Young as Lubin Mubgy, mine host of ye Lambourne arms, was funny. He is remembered here as one of the comedians with the Griffin Company, and his work has improved in the last two years.

As a whole there is little to condemn and much to praise in the production,

NO SLEEP FOR MOTHER

Baby Covered With Sores and Scales. Could Not Tell What She Looked Like.

MARVELOUS CURE BY CUTICURA

"At four months old my baby's face and body were so covered with sores and large scales you could not tell what she looked like. No child ever had a worse case. Her face was being caten away, and even her finger nails fell off. It itched so she could not sleep, and for many weary nights we could get no rest. At last we got Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The sores began to heal at once, and she could sleep at night, and in one month she had not one sore on her face or body.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., November 10.—A statement coming from within the Naval Academy, and believed to represent the midshipmen's version of the fight between Midshipmen Merlwether and Branch and the death of the latter, is as follows:

"The fight between Midshipmen Branch and Meriwether was because of personal dislike and trouble between the two midshipmen, which culminated in the latter personally insulting the former. Midshipman Branch did not report Midshipman Meriwether for any violation of regulations, and he did not incur this fight because of discharging his duty. Midshiptions, and he did not incur this fight because of discharging his duty. Midshipman Branch challenged Meriwether, as the result of insulting remarks addressed to him by the latter, and it was decided that their differences be decided in the usual manly American fashion.

"This way of settling their personal difficulties may have been a mistaken one, but as far as can be said about an affair of this description, it was free from brutality and any unfairness, and the trugic ending is a most lamentable
